

The Retina Physicians of the Spokane Eye Clinic welcome the opportunity to care for your patient.

JASON H. JONES, MD

Dr. Jones joined Spokane Eye Clinic in 2000, specializing in disease of the vitreous and retina. Prior to joining the Clinic staff, he graduated summa cum laude from Ohio State University (OSU), where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Physiological Optics and a Doctor of Optometry degree, finishing at the top of his class.

He then pursued medical school at OSU, where he graduated magna cum laude and was elected to the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society, receiving numerous academic awards. Following an Ophthalmology Residency at OSU, Dr. Jones completed a Fellowship in Vitreoretinal Surgery at the prestigious Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary/Harvard Medical School.

He is a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and the American Society of Retinal Specialists. He has completed research in the area of vitreoretinal surgery.

ROBERT S. WIRTHLIN, MD

Dr. Wirthlin joined the Spokane Eye Clinic in July 2006. He graduated from the highly-selective 7-year integrated pre-medical and medical program (Inteflex) at the University of Michigan Medical School. He received his B.S. in Biomedical Sciences in 1997 and his M.D. in 2000.

Dr. Wirthlin completed his Ophthalmology Residency training at the prestigious Bascom Palmer Eye Institute/University of Miami School of Medicine. He then completed a two-year Fellowship in Vitreoretinal Diseases at the Jules Stein Eye Institute/UCLA School of Medicine.

Dr. Wirthlin is a member of numerous professional societies including the American Medical Association, American Academy of Ophthalmology, Association for Research in Vision and Ophthalmology and the American Society of Retinal Specialists. He has given research presentations at national meetings and published articles in peer-reviewed ophthalmology journals.

ERIC S. GUGLIELMO, MD

Dr. Guglielmo joined the Spokane Eye Clinic in the fall of 2010. Prior to attending medical school, Dr. Guglielmo received a Masters Degree in Education from the University of Georgia and taught school in rural Alaska for four years.

After completing his pre-med courses at the University of Alaska, Fairbanks, Dr. Guglielmo attended the University Of Nevada School Of Medicine, graduating with Honors in 2005. While there he received numerous awards including election to the Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society.

He completed his Residency in Ophthalmology at the Dean McGee Eye Institute at the University of Oklahoma, and his fellowship in vitreo-retinal diseases and surgery at West Virginia University.

ANDREW CHEEK, MD

Dr. Cheek joined the staff of Spokane Eye Clinic in 2012. He graduated Summa Cum Laude from Walla Walla University in 2003. He went on to earn his Medical Degree in 2007 from Loma Linda University School of Medicine in Loma Linda, CA.

After medical school, he completed his ophthalmology residency at the University of Maryland Medical Center in Baltimore, MD. Dr. Cheek completed his Vitreoretinal fellowship at the West Virginia Eye Institute, West Virginia University in June, 2012. He is a retina specialist.

Dr. Cheek is a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology, the American Society of Retinal Surgeons and the Maryland Society of Eye physicians and Surgeons.

LOREN S. JACK, MD

Dr. Jack joined the Spokane Eye Clinic in July 2015. He is a Board Certified Ophthalmologist specializing in conditions affecting the retina and vitreous.

Dr. Jack earned his medical degree from Oregon Health Science University in Portland, OR. After medical school, he went on to train in ophthalmology at the University of South Carolina and Palmetto Health, where he was selected to serve as Clinical Chief Resident. Following residency, Dr. Jack went on to complete a two-year vitreoretinal fellowship at the Stanley M. Truhlsen Eye Institute at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. While there, he actively participated in clinical studies investigating therapeutic interventions for wet and dry macular degeneration, diabetic eye disease, and uveitis.

RYAN J. WHITTED, MD

Dr. Whitted joined the Spokane Eye Clinic in August 2016. He is originally from Northern California. He attended the U.S. Air Force Academy and transferred to Cornell University where he graduated with a degree in Chemistry.

Dr. Whitted attended medical school at the U.C. Davis School of Medicine in Sacramento, where he was director of the student-run clinic. He also studied medicine in Nicaragua as part of a medical student exchange program and is conversant in Spanish.

Dr. Whitted completed ophthalmology residency at the prestigious Vanderbilt Eye Institute in Nashville, TN. After residency, Dr. Whitted completed a vitreoretinal surgery fellowship jointly with the University of Kentucky and Retina Associates of Kentucky -- one of the busiest surgical training programs in the country. Dr. Whitted is board certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology.